I build systems that find buyers, start conversations and report what really happened — and I test them like the QA engineer I started as.

Since April 2026 I've run growth and automation at InterVision Media, a media and marketing studio: paid acquisition, outbound prospecting, ticketing integrations and the always-on services behind them, built by directing Claude Code. Since October I've also reviewed AI model output on contract for Mercor. Before that, two years at Intuit QuickBooks, where I was promoted from Sales Consultant to Account Executive and then moved into QA, and QA engineering at Hertz.

SELECTED WORK

GTM ENGINEERING
Outbound prospecting pipeline
Research, a 100-point lead score and personalised outreach for 506 hotels and resorts across 21 markets. Each lead names the person who can say yes and grades every contact route by how it was verified.

PAID GROWTH
Meta acquisition, April–November 2026
1,678 messaging conversations and 36,366 link clicks on $1,092 in spend. For partner Easy Equb's app launch: 75,724 reached, 6,795 link clicks and 435 conversations on $57.

INTEGRATION
Ticket sync for a 300-seat event
A bridge that syncs sales across two ticketing storefronts so each price tier's cap counts combined sales, with a Telegram alert on every sale. The paid campaign drove 54 tracked purchases at about $1.30 each.

AI TOOLING
Premiere Pro MCP server
Gives an LLM 269 tools across 29 modules inside Adobe Premiere Pro. An edit-planning layer previews the whole change set before anything touches a timeline.

AI OPERATIONS
14 services and scheduled jobs
A Telegram-to-Claude operations bridge, weekly Meta reporting, ticket-sale alerts and social publishing, running unattended across a Linux VPS and macOS.

AI QUALITY
Job-search engine with a claim linter
Pulls postings from Greenhouse, Lever and Ashby, scores each against a rubric with an LLM, filters scams with fixed rules, and blocks any generated résumé line whose number isn't in a verified bank. Node.js, SQLite, Claude API, systemd; 100 unit tests.
